

stimulating innovative learning skills jobs lifelong remuneration scientific technological career conditions competence work flexible research passion

Europe needs post-doc researchers...

The Joint Research Centre (JRC) is the European Commission's in-house science service. Operating in Belgium, Germany, Italy, Spain and the Netherlands, with a headcount of over 2,800, the JRC is currently seeking post-doctorate researchers from the EU Member States and from Associated Countries* with the right blend of academic/professional experience to work at the cutting edge of scientific and technological developments supporting EU policies.

If you have a sound track record of research in Natural Sciences; Quantitative Sciences; Human and Social Sciences; Agricultural, Environmental and Earth Sciences; Health Sciences, you can make all the difference within the JRC's stimulating multicultural environment. In return, you can expect an exciting fixed-term opportunity, a competitive remuneration package and the chance to become involved in some of the most exciting research initiatives in Europe today.

To learn more, visit www.jrc.ec.europa.eu/competitions and as soon as you are ready to apply, fill in your on-line application at http://europa.eu/epso/apply/today/contract_en.htm

Registration closes on 1 March 2013.

Reference: EPPO/CAST/S/5/2013.

The JRC promotes equal opportunities and non-discriminatory practices in the workplace.

 Albania, Bosnia & Herzegovina, Croatia, Faroe Islands, Iceland, Israel, Liechtenstein, Montenegro, Norway, Republic of Moldova, Switzerland, the Former Yugoslav Republic of Macedonia and Serbia, Turkey.*

JRC

EUROPEAN COMMISSION